MESSAGE FROM THE VICE-CHANCELLOR

Dr. Sheela Raja Ram

Vice-Chancellor, Botho University

Dear Botho University (Botswana) Graduates,

Congratulations from the entire Botho University community to the Botswana Class of 2022 on reaching this very important milestone in your life and career. I join you today in thanking your family, friends and most importantly your faculty for supporting you in this journey. Let us also be grateful to our nation for funding your education. This special day marks the beginning of a new journey as you build your careers and your personalities.

We stand here today in the year 2023, just over three years away from when the world first faced the disruptive forces of the Covid pandemic. You must have been in your second and third years when you had to adapt and deal with the changes the pandemic brought upon us. I ask you to look back and introspect on how you dealt with change and how that experience influenced your outlook into the future. There is indeed great learning on how each of us deals with such inflection points in life – do we run away when faced with the discomfort of change? Or do we learn to use critical thinking to successfully pivot in the face of change? Adaptability, being able to deal with the rapidly evolving future of work, is going to be a very critical skill to succeed in all your future endeavors.

Your success is our central mission, and the entire Botho University community works hard to nurture the well-rounded graduate who can succeed anywhere in the world. The Botho model begins with industry aligned relevant curriculum, a pedagogy that gives students practical real-life experiences that develop employability skills, digital expertise, entrepreneurship training, multiple opportunities to interact with industry, career advising and finally placement efforts. This holistic, whole University effort that covers curricular and extracurricular initiatives has been proven to produce employable graduates who can make a difference. Botho University has over the years invested into building this employability model that gives our graduates an edge when they step out into the world of work. We have also invested in university wide digitization towards becoming a digitally transformed university as seen from International Finance Corporation's (IFC is part of the World Bank Group) Digital for Tertiary Education Program (D4TEP) that studied Botho's digital maturity.

I am sure that while we celebrate your success at this graduation ceremony, your minds are also occupied with what the future holds for you. Where are the jobs that you aspire for? Do you stay closer to home and family? Or do you seek your fortune beyond your home base? At Botho University we have reason to believe that you have great potential no matter where you go. We saw this potential during your years as a student of Botho University. Those of you who took up assignments outside your comfort zone through virtual internships or other work opportunities during your internships and international competitions, you came on top. So many employers and international organisations now know the highly skilled Botho University graduate. Hence my advice is to be adventurous and go seek new opportunities globally.

Your success is dependent on the skills you have and an entrepreneurial mindset whereby you can think critically, make data driven decisions, take calculated risks and adopt lifelong learning to keep developing yourself ahead of others. I urge you to continue to learn to communicate effectively both in writing and speech, embrace the use of technology and become more change-ready and societally inclined. Being open-minded to other cultures and ways of working is important as you will find yourself working in multicultural teams. Remember that success is always built upon failure and hence do not be afraid to fail.

I urge you to stay connected with your University through the Botho University Alumni Association and benefit from this growing network of skilled graduates. Everyone of us at Botho University across five countries in Africa wish you our Botswana graduates the best in all your future endeavors.

Best Wishes,

Dr. Sheela Raja Ram
Botho University, Vice-Chancellor
